St. Ambrose Juniors Thanksgiving Party

Games and Competitions for Boys
Young and Old

St. Ambrose Parish hall was the scene on Saturday afternoon of a most pleasant little gathering of children with a fair sprinkling of adults, all of whom entered heartily into the spirit of the party. Under the kind supervision of Mrs. Waller, the games went merrily until tea time. A drawing competition evoked a number of entries, prizes being won by Marie and Opal Lyons. "Bob-a-joe" was also included in by several of the youngsters, much to everyone's amusement.

The elders had a competition to themselves in the shape of old-dress-ing, the hats in each case being one of the old-fashioned clothes pegs. Wonderful prizes were taken by all the competitors, with the result that dolls, most creditable and like-like dolls emerged for the judging. Eventually Mrs. Hedge and Mrs. Waller were awarded first and second prizes. Tea was done full justice, and a few more games wound up the afternoon most happily. Many thanks to the grown-ups who patronized the children's party and particularly to those who contributed refreshments and personal assistance.

Alberta Trade With Orient Promising

Went Cattle, Horses and Swine for Breeding and Slaughter

Good prospects for the exportation of Alberta livestock to Japan now exists as a result of the visit of apt. T. Kawakami of Yokohama, who has been the past month negotiating conditions in this province. Following the visit of H. C. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, to the Orient two years ago and the trial shipment of stock sent over at that time, the same interest in Japan which Capt. Kawakami expressed on his visit to the importation of beef cattle for slaughter and beef and dairy cattle and swine for breeding purposes, as a result of which will greatly increase the volume of Alberta's trade with the Far East, if the plans at present contemplated materialize.

Ottawa Places Ban On Small Envelopes

Will Stop 8 ending Xmas Cards in Small Envelopes

The post office department has declared war on the small envelope, and the railway's daily envelope is to be a matter of history. Primarily responsible is the new cancellation machine adopted by the postal authorities.

When the cancellation stamps were introduced by land there was no great need for uniformity of envelope size but now, it is pointed out, massive containers of uniform size are necessary to the efficiency of Canada's postal system. The postoffice authorities negotiated with the manufacturers and the latter have agreed not to turn out any more small envelopes. The most important far-reaching disposition of the government is that no more small Christmas cards necessitating the use of tiny envelopes will be made.

GOOD PRICES FOR CATTLE TO CONTINUE

That good prices would be obtained for some time to come in the United States for Canadian cattle, as was view expressed on Saturday by John Burns, general manager of the P. Burns Company, Limited, after a number of cattle had been realized lately, he said, notwithstanding the high tariff, had been satisfactory to the producers.

As the shortage of cattle on the other side of the line would undoubtedly continue for some considerable time, the outlook so far as Canadian cattlemen were concerned, was most encouraging.

Some of the Canadian stockmen's leaders, Mr. Burns said, had been sent as far as California.

The British market had not so far reacted to the high prices obtained in the United States and shipments to the Old Country had therefore only been sent small.

Bad Weather is Holding Up Threshing

Still About Ten Days of Threshing in This District

All the threshing outfits in this district have been compelled to discontinue operations for the present owing to the heavy snow fall and cold weather. Several tried to continue last Monday and Tuesday but have given up. Although great progress was made during the long spell of fine weather, there is still about ten days' threshing in this neighborhood. Most of this appears to be in the Box Springs district, where a large percentage of the grain is still in stock. A few of the farmers have started their stacks.

Jim Myers and his crew are in town today. Jim informs us that he tried to keep going as long as possible but was forced to discontinue on the day of the weather conditions. He says if the weather moderates and the snow disappears he will start up again to thresh the remainder of the threshing will have to stand over till next spring.

GORDON MEMORIAL NOTES

The Junior Choir of Gordon Memorial church appeared for the first time on Sunday morning wearing their new uniforms, and made a very favorable impression on the congregation. Many comments of appreciation were made not only on the appearance of the choir but also on the contribution it is making to the service of praise at the morning worship.

The Sunday school program for the next few weeks is to include a course of scientific temperance instruction. The course will be illustrated by charts and is intended to show the effect of the use of alcohol and also its effect on the various organs of the human body. This new method of instruction ought to prove most effective in refuting young people from the evils of intoxicating drink.

On Friday evening, Nov. 10th, a concert by the Junior Choir will be given in the club rooms next Sunday. The program is being prepared under the direction of the choir leader, Mrs. Stone, and everything is being done to make the concert the most first class in all respects. Be sure not to make other plans for Friday evening, Nov. 10th. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock.

Local Lad's Opinion Of Hollowe'en

The following competition on Hollowe'en was written by Jim McBurnett, a grade seven pupil at our school:

"Hollowe'en expresses joy to the average child mingled with a little fear of goblins, ghosts and witches. To the youth it expresses fun and tricks. Hollowe'en to the old folk brings fair memories of the day gone by. It is a time in the year when everyone should be a good sport. Hollowe'en grants a great satisfaction to the public if spent in the right way."

WHEAT POOL NEWS

The string of 153 Wheat Pool elevators established something of a record when they reported handlings of 670,000 bushels in one day.

The annual delivery of the Wheat Pool will be held on Wednesday, November 23, in Calgary. The reports for the year will be presented to the Pool delegates.

H. W. Wood, chairman of the board of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool, told the Calgary Wheat Club in the course of an address, that if the farmers cannot sell their own wheat, scientifically there is little to hope for agriculture in Canada.

Many contracts covering large acreages are being received by the Alberta Wheat Pool. A quarter section of farm land in Southern Alberta has signed a contract with the Wheat Pool. The Alberta Wheat Pool terminal at Prince Rupert loaded the first crop of wheat from the 1927 crop for Europe this week.

Construction has started on the new 2,400,000 Pool terminal at Vancouver. It will be ready for the 1928 crop, and will cost $2,000,000.

RANCHERS TO MEET IN MEDICINE HAT

The short grass ranchers of the Medicine Hat district, which comprises a very large area, will meet in Medicine Hat on December 7th, the purpose of drawing up resolutions urging upon the attention of the government the disparity in grading, as between the foothills vicinity and the Medicine Hat short grass district.

The number of head of cattle which can be grazed locally per acre, cannot be compared to the number which can be accommodated in the foothills. Yet the lease rentals are the same. It is to remedy this obvious inequality that the ranchers will band their efforts.

EASTERN FACTORY IS SEEKING SITE IN WEST

Edmonton, along with other cities in the West to be investigated by the Hamilton Currah Mill, Ltd., the large manufacturers of cereals in the world, as a possible site for the establishment of a western factory distributing cereals.

The factory, it is stated, would employ some 50 persons and have an annual payroll of around $50,000.

GENERAL MEETING OF LOCAL LEGION

The general monthly meeting of the local Legion will be held in the club rooms next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. As the booming year will take place at this meeting a full attendance is urgently requested. There will also be other important business to discuss.

Farmers Complain of Wheat Grading

Difficult Grades Handled Out for the Same Wheat

Farmers of this district are complaining of the grades handed out for their grain. This complaint appears to be general over the province, and the chief reason for the complaint is the difference in grades for wheat grown on the same farm and sold at the same time. This matter is being investigated.

New England Flood Toll Now Passes 140

Deaths Loss of Life Property Damage
In Many Millions

New stories of distress from northern Vermont and the addition of new names to the ever-growing list of fatalities in connection with last week's flood which has already claimed more than 140 victims, continues to pour in. A report sent to Washington from Quebec writers says:

The New England flood is under the care of the American Red Cross. An example of individual losses is that of the Richard was estimated at $1,000,000, based on an admittedly superficial survey.

Montpelier, Vermont, appraised its loss at $3,000,000. Damage due to railways is estimated at $1,000,000.

British Professor Takes Advanced View

Says British Empire Makes Greatest Experiment in History

"Since the last imperial conference, the British Empire has been out step into a number of independent states. London is longer the capital of the Empire; the dominion capitals are almost equal," declared Prof. Alfred Zimmern in an address at King's College, Cambridge University last night.

"This, perhaps, is the biggest and bravest single surrender of power made by a government," Prof. Zimmern continued. "Formerly speaking, the empire has been disrupted but the empire is a more effective constitution than ever before."

Prof. Zimmern is assistant director of the League of Nations Institute of International co-operation in Paris. He was connected with the political institute of the League of Nations of the British foreign office 1918 to 1919.

ALBERTA'S CROP "STARTLING"

The remarkable feature of this year's crop, of course, is Alberta's crop. Wheat, Manitoba and Saskatchewan actual returns proved disappointing, those of Alberta are even better than expected. That Alberta with only 29 percent of the wheat acreage, should nearly equal the wheat production of Saskatchewan, which has 60 percent of the acreage, is truly startling. From W. Sanford Evans' Statistical Service, Winnipeg.

Traps of flame shooting high into the midnight air Wednesday morning, in a few minutes reduced the 90-foot derrick of Meland No. 1 well in Turner Valley to a clattered heap.

SNOW FALL GENERAL IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA

Winter descended upon Southern Alberta Saturday night when a bolt from the northeast brought lower temperatures and snow. The week's fall was marked by additional snow on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday morning from six to ten inches of snow is blanketing the whole countryside. This is the first real taste of winter the Southland has had this season. October generally being clear and favorable to threatening operations. This is the report from southern Alberta generally. The snow fall was not so heavy around here.

ALBERTA GRAB AGAIN TO SEEK INTERNATIONAL HONORS

Alberta enters will again be heavy at the Chicago International Fair and Exposition, according to a Pressed Field Corps Commissioner W. J. Stephens, and some splendid samples from the province will compete with the best from all parts of the continent.

WELSH MINERS ARE MARCHING TO LONDON

The tramp of the marching feet of the unemployed miners in Wales, headed as they marched for a march on London coincident with the opening of parliament.

This Welsh "Cowsy's Army" recruited from the unemployed miners by A. J. Cook, secretary of the British Miners' Federation, intends to make this march demonstrate a petition in "hunger" to call the attention of the public and the government to conditions in the coal fields in that country.

Thanksgiving Service and Supper at Bowell

Despite Inclement Weather Both Were
A Success

Thanksgiving was celebrated at the Bowell school house with a special service on Sunday afternoon, and a supper and concert on Monday evening. The Rev. Chas. from Gordon Memorial led the praise service on Sunday. Owing to the inclement there were some of the Bowell people who had taken along a concert program, with the assistance of Albert Lemon Jr. and Helen Ferns. The supper attracted the audience to run hour and a half.

The supper served by the ladies on Monday evening was a complete success reacting to the minds of Redcliff old-timers the supper for which the well in the more balmly days of the district, was famous. Though in number the force has much depleted the spirit of former years has greatly revived with the reaping of another rich harvest. After supper the singing of hymns and songs was along a concert program, with the assistance of Albert Lemon Jr. and Helen Ferns. The supper attracted the audience to run hour and a half.

This note ought to include a reference to the donations. Grains and vegetables in this variety and of high quality were tastefully arranged about the walls and on the platform of the building, providing evidence of the fertility of the soil when moistened with the friendly showers. On behalf of Rev. Mr. Wm. Davidson, moved a vote of thanks to Redcliff people for their interest and assistance.

The evening closed with the singing of the national anthem.

Neelson Found Guilty; To Hang on Jan. 13

Strangler of Many Women to Pay the Penalty

Earle Nelson, of Polo Alto, Calif., variously described in police records as the "dark stranger," "Gorilla man" and "maniac killer," was sentenced to death in Winnipeg last Saturday for the murder of Mrs. Emily Patterson, one of the two Winnipeg women whom he strangled and violated early last June.

Nelson will be executed on Friday, January 13, next, nearly seven months from the day he was captured at a small town of Kilmory, Man., and charged with the crime.

The verdict of a jury was returned by the jury after one hour's deliberation, bringing to a dramatic close a trial which has aroused international interest and unprecedented public hostility toward the prisoner.

Nelson heard the verdict with indifference. He was not at all moved by emotional stress was apparent, however, when the court asked him if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced.

Beatty Ranch Sold To Eastern Man

Purchase Price Is in Neighborhood of $40,000

The Harry Beatty ranch situated on the Big Bend Highway north of Medicine Hat, has been sold to Mr. Jim Harris, Toronto, one of the members of the Harris Abolition Company, during the last few days for somewhere in the neighborhood of $40,000.

The deal which was organized by Jim Mitchell, well known ranchman of the district, includes the purchase of about 700 head of cattle 130 horses and 50,000 acres of lease and the deed.

So far as can be learned at present it is not the intention of the owners to work the ranch itself but to sell it, but to have it run by a local manager.

ALBERTA ATTRA TOPS CHICAGO MARKET RECENTLY

Forty-one head of Alberta grass-fed steers shipped by P. Burns and Co. to Chicago recently set a new figure on that market for this class of cattle during the season. These steers sold at $15.65 per hundred pounds, exceeding the previous high price by 66c. Good prices on the American market have stimulated a large shipment of cattle from the western provinces during the past few months.

A CREDIT TO CANADA

QUITE frequently of recent years there have been many occasions for comparisons of the difference between the manner in which justice is meted out in this country and in the United States.

These comparisons have at most always been much to the credit of Canada and none too flattering to our neighbors to the south. These comparisons and criticisms have not been confined to the laity across the line. At many gatherings of law associations both here and in the States, leading American jurists have been among the most severe critics of their own courts and loudest in their praise of the Canadian system. It has been claimed that the hair splitting of technicalities by clever lawyers across the line has served more or less as a protection for end encouragement to wrong doers.

The manner in which the trial of Earle Nelson "the strangler," was conducted in Winnipeg last week; the result and the philosophic manner in which the verdict and sentence were received by the public, stands out as a distinct contrast, when placed alongside of similar trials across the line. Although a foreigner in our country, charged with one of the most cold blooded murders of modern times, Nelson got a fair trial. The most influential and prosperous native in the country could not have had the fairer trial. He was provided by the Crown with a capable counsel who guarded his interests as zealously as though he had been charged with petit larceny, but who at the same time made no appeal to the sob sister element of the community.

Although there may have been some in the court room and community who were opposed to capital punishment, no attempt was made to interfere with or embarrass the court in the carrying out of British justice as laid down by the laws of the land. Neither was there at any time since the prisoner was arrested, any attempt at mob law, denials the heinousness of the crime with which he was charged. The capture of this desperate man is a credit to our western police. His trial is a credit to our judiciary, and the manner in which the public conducted themselves is a credit to the country.

Now that the majority of the provincial premier in conference have decided that they do not want the B.N.A. Act changed, nor the Senate reformed; and since the Conservative convention has put the soft pedal on the protection plank in their platform, and the Hudson's Bay railway, what in the world are we going to talk and write about during the next Dominion election. Unless either McKenna King or R. B. Bennett gets married in the meantime it will be a tame election.

MORTGAGE COMPANIES AS COLONIZING AGENTS

FRAGMENTARY reports in the press of late have told of a proposal under consideration by mortgage companies in the West to organize a holding company with a view of taking over and colonizing the land which have fallen into the hands of the companies through non-payment of loans and interest. A recent report from THE PRAIRIE PRESS states that the mortgage companies have approached the Dominion government seeking assistance to settlers on these lands, similar to the assistance advanced to settlers under the family settlement scheme. It is understood the Government is not likely to consider the proposal, in which case the mortgage companies will bring out European settlers, and advance them sufficient funds to start them on these mortgaged farms now lying idle.

This plan will be of particular interest to Southeastern Alberta, where a few bad years resulted in a heavy abandonment of mortgaged farms. The plan, if it is worked out intelligently can be made to succeed. It will require a careful supervision after placement to see that the methods suitable to farming in Southeastern Alberta are put into practice. If these settlers are allowed to go their own path there is little doubt that there will be another debacle such as was witnessed in the Southeast a few years ago. A scheme of settlement and intelligent direction applied to mortgage lands in the Southeast similar to that applied in the colonization of the Letbridge Northern Irrigation project can succeed. This year's fine crop in the Southeast encourages hope that there are better days ahead for that area of fertile land, and it would be well that its rejuvenation should be undertaken now. —Letbridge Herald.

Liberal papers are still harping on the tilt between Arthur Meighen and Premier Ferguson at the Conservative Winnipeg convention. Probably these papers are allowing themselves to get heated up over this controversy in order to counteract the old evils they are receiving because of the impression the new Conservative leader is making in all parts of Canada.

A denunciation of ladies from Quebec waited upon Premier King, asking him to see that they are given the franchise provincially. Mr. King told them very properly that it was none of his business and that if he made it his business he would very soon hear from the government of that province. Premier King was not so outspoken, nor so considerate of provincial rights when he allowed Henri Bourassa to throw the monkey wrench into Alberta's natural resources agreement.

Drawing attention to the fact that three of Canada's leading men, viz., McKenna King, R. B. Bennett and E. W. Beattie are bachelors, the Vancouver Observer observes: "Had they married and been daddies of a bunch of little Kings, Bennetts, and Beatties, it is possible that none of them would have found time to become more or less great. The fact is, though that few of our public men do much in the way of perpetuating the race. The Fathers of Confederation themselves were not fathers of much else."

How Much We Pay

Enormous Expenses Incurred in Connection With Preventable Illness and Death

Four business men were having lunch together and discussing the matter of carrying a very effective local hospital. They agreed that it undoubtedly deserved public support.

One of the quartet unexpectedly introduced a new angle into the conversation.

"I've just read in the Wapewick and operation of our hospital," he said, "I would be much more interested in keeping them empty."

He showed them an economic side of the situation that they had never grasped. In that thirty per cent of all deaths and fifty per cent of all illnesses are preventable. Each one suddenly realized that he personally was spending a large sum of money annually which might be saved. His business concern was not a much poorer one.

The community in which he lived was paying tremendous bills unnecessarily. These provisions of the Federal Government as well as abolishing an enormous additional burden in order to look after preventable illness.

And up with illness, preventable and impossible to prevent. Canadian railway capital has been estimated at $175,000,000 which is subdivided as follows:

Grand total $175,000,000
Income $30,000,000
Savings $50,000,000
Savings $95,000,000

This capital investment is being steadily increased. Yet, it is at least safe to assume that, however long, since fifty per cent of our illness is not necessary, forty per cent of our costly facilities are employed in dealing with preventable illness.

The yearly expenditure is also staggering. Canada has a population of 10,000,000 annually to operate these institutions. It is fair to assume that fifty per cent is used in treating unnecessary illness.

Business and industry are forced to foot a terrible bill. The number of days of labor lost yearly because of unnecessary illness is not at 20,500,000, and if $2.00 is fixed as the average cost of each day lost to the employee, there is another annual item of loss amounting to $210,000,000.

In addition, the cost of the business and industry, through loss of production, the cost of such items as drugs, hospitalization, medical care, medicines and hospital services, caused originally by preventable illness, amounts to more than $100,000,000 per year.

In the registration area of the Dominion during 1924, there were 10,000 deaths. The registration area covers 78 per cent of our population. At that rate, there were 12,500 deaths in the whole Dominion in that year. Of this total, 20,000 deaths, approximately, were of preventable character.

Artificially considered, this represents a capital loss to Canada in 1924 of $24,750,000.

The three business men first mentioned these statistics were appalled. And naturally so. Leaving aside all the humanitarian and charitable motives, they could visualize the way it was affecting their own affairs. They were losing a great deal of money. What, they wanted to know, was being done about it?

"The thought about it," said the first man, "and I can see that, while it is quite true that governments and municipalities should act, the main difficulty is an uninterested public."

"Some organization will have to distribute a good deal of educational work to the people. It is not neglect of this kind because of callousness or indifference, but because of ignorance of conditions as they are. At present far too little emphasis is placed on the principle of prevention."

"You're right" put in one of the three, "and I for one am ready to get behind a movement for public education."

Newspaper Advertising
R. W. Kelly, Chicago department store president, in a recent address before the convention of the National Retail Light Association, stated:

"Without appearing to hold a brief for the newspapers we are of the opinion that, dollar for dollar, our return from newspaper advertising is much greater than from any other form of advertisement." Another David comes to judgment—"Winning Trade."

The British telephone service here has paid expense since it was taken over by the post office in 1920.

It's often better to go straight ahead slowly than to travel in a circle at a rapid pace.

Raw Material For Face Powders

Only 37 varieties Of Pickles, But 1,075 Of Face Powders

When it is considered that American women spend over $1 million dollars each year on talcum and face powders, and when one considers New York department stores alone require for stock 1,075 varieties of talcum powder, the possibilities of a market for raw materials suitable for use in this industry are at once apparent.

Canada alone is the largest source of the material at Ottawa.

Canada alone which might be used in the manufacture of face powder, according to a recent publication by the Department of Agriculture, is talcum, inferior earth and kaolin.

Talcum powder is a refined quality of the hydrous silicate of magnesium known as talc. The finest quality is pure white and a special product of Italy, which in 1923 exported 12,000 tons, of which the United States took 5,750. Whether the talc, which Canada produces in large amounts for use as talc in the manufacture of other industries and also exports, is of the exact quality required for cosmetic use is a matter which is being investigated by the Geological Survey, though Italy is the largest producer of talc in bulk, yet imports Italian talc for toilet preparations.

Canada has a market in Britain for wherever for the final product. The largest supply in Canada is from St. John's, where it is found in great quantities, and a fine quality ground to a 200-mesh and used as an ingredient of soap is produced in Vancouver Island, British Columbia.

Kiln-dried, otherwise known as its inferior earth, or diatomite, because it consists of the remains of diatoms, is a silica net with its common use as a greyish-white powder. In the toilet powder industry it is used as a base for oil, and is used in the manufacture of dental cements and pigments, and being adherent and light, is useful in the manufacture of face powder.

Canada is the only source of this material known as China clay. An electrically purified form of this material, known as kaolin, is used for paper as face powder and as a substitute for prepared chalk in tooth pastes.

Linealness Of The Atlantic

Noted in Long Of Alsbach Which Crossed Twice In 1919

Imagine yourself able to gaze over an area of 15,300 square miles, says a travel expert, and yet unable to see anything but water. This should give you some idea of the vastness and linealness of the Atlantic as viewed from the air.

It was in the fog of the albatross B-24, which was on a mission to America and back again in 1919, that this linealness was noted by Al Commandant R. M. Matland. He wrote: "We saw the Atlantic from the air. Visibility is at its maximum, and at this height, according to the text-books, we should be able to see a distance of eighty-one miles from the right forward to right aft; yet, although this area of visibility was out at 15,300 square miles, not a ship is in sight."

Dangerous To Fool With

Modern Devices Cause More Casualties Than That Wars Have

Automobiles have brought death to 7,000 people in this country during the last twelve months, which is an increase of 400 over the preceding twelve months.

Celebrating last Fourth of July returned in 126 deaths and 3,719 injuries.

This is a larger casualty list than America suffered in most great battles of the Revolutionary War.

Gas-powered, combustion engines, high tensioned cables, airplanes and other modern devices are dangerous to fool with, except when operated by experts in a systematic way.

Alberta River Pools
Three thousand registered river swimmers were inhabiting the 78 fish ranches of Alberta at the end of 1924, and it is expected that the number of the River Ranches Association that this summer has been doubled this year. Some profits from the pools in Alberta this year will total about $200,000.

Novely Worn Of—But Interest Remains

Radio Has Become Part and Parcel Of Rural Life

Although radio has already won an established place in the world's opinion, it is only an infant when its present position is placed beside its immense possibilities.

But it is an adult industry when the ability it has attained is considered. If the sense of novelty and wonder caused by its first emergence has worn, its hold remains because radio has become part and parcel of the routine of life.

Gradually, too, a better conception of its potential place is coming into being. People are far less content with just hearing anything and are refusing to listen to useless what is being broadcasted by the radio.

As a consequence, broadcasting programs are improving and interest is being stimulated and sustained by contentful wide-coverage programs of great interest or large popular interest.

Commercially less than its years old, the radio industry in the United States claims for the trade years just closed a national market of nearly half-a-billion dollars of nearly half-a-billion dollars to leave that mark for behind.

Confidence In The League

Sensible Progress In Disarmament Predicted By Sir Austen Chamberlain

"Sensible progress on disarmament was predicted for the near future by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, in an interview in Paris, reviewing the recent assembly of the league of nations."

"The session was interesting and had many results," he said. "The league is not yet and will not be for a long time everything its founders would have desired."

"But the world today has more confidence in the league and the league has more confidence in the world," he said. "The details of the last assembly permit the hope that in the near future sensible progress can be made in the disarmament and international security—though the international situation at the present is not ripe for sensational developments."

Chinese Metaphors
In the Orient a poetic quality often attaches to commonplace objects.

Thus it is said that in China the umbrella is referred to as a "fairy land" because of its resemblance to a butterfly, a butterfly is romantically known as "the gentleman of the air."

China is the Chinese equivalent of it, "to scatter seed."

Wintering Bees

Successful Wintering Important Factor In Canadian Beekeeping

On account of our long winters the successful wintering of bees is an important factor in Canadian beekeeping. This can be easily done when one knows how and the proper procedure is described in a bulletin on Wintering Bees, available at the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

The long cold winter in most parts of Canada is not as hard on bees as it might be imagined, and the proper procedure can be taken of it to give the bees a complete rest instead of having them wear themselves out with useless activity as they often do in milder climates.

To live through the winter months the colonies must be well filled with young bees, be provided with an abundance of food, and the entrance to the hive must be kept at a low temperature, and be given sufficient protection to prevent waste of energy and life in the production of heat.

To ensure sufficient young bees, each colony should be headed with a prolific queen at least if it is weak before the normal season of brood rearing in the fall. The bees must be given at least a few days of rest before the winter chills are turned.

For outdoor wintering the bees must be large enough to hold sufficient pollen and must be kept to prevent the packing from becoming wet and the colony should be surrounded with a good windbreak. For cellar wintering the cellar must be well insulated from outdoor temperatures and kept at a temperature of 40 to 50 degrees F.

The cellar must be kept dark, fairly dry, and be well ventilated. After being placed in winter quarters the bees should not be disturbed.

The Law Comes First

Tourist Not To Be Allowed To Ignore Traffic

The regulations which govern driving must be enforced no matter where the offender falls from. Even in the interest of humanity as a gesture of good will, we can not afford to let tourists or anybody else get the idea "that our traffic laws do not mean anything."

The roads are ours; we have the right to use them as we wish, and the motorist who ignores the rules laid down for the protection of the public must deal with his matter when his home is reached.

The driver of a bus on shipboard must be careful of the passengers and the land. The bus was struck when the glass was turned.

Simple Rules Give Protection

Ordinary Health Dictums Best Guard Against Infantile Paralysis

The recent startling outbreak of infantile paralysis is several victims in cities and in some of the states across the border makes an article appearing in the October number of the Canadian Medical Association of more than ordinary interest. Warnings and instructions for protecting children against the dreaded disease are given. It says to part:

"The nature of the germ causing the disease is not known. It is thought the disease is directly transmissible from person to person."

"The nose and throat are known to contain the germ. The incubation period is from three to fourteen days usually about seven days. The disease starts abruptly with fever and often nausea and vomiting. This stage lasts a few days and then subsides."

"In order to guard against this disease one should, first of all, avoid taking children to places where it is known to exist. It is a wise rule not to allow them to play with other children but to keep them in the shade of their own back yard."

"Mothers should be particularly careful of their children's feet. They should be kept clean and dry and should be washed and protected from flies. It is important to observe every rule of cleanliness."

Here we have little more than the ordinary rules of health—diet, exercise, cleanliness. There is no royal road to health for even in the great emergencies the simple rules are the important ones.
